

About Tambra Harck

Tambra Harck is a spiritual mentor and speaker and author of Sacred Truths: An Unveiled Path to an Abundance of Joy, Meaning and Love, who guides successful business and thought leaders through intuitive and soul-level transformation. She specializes in helping these individuals to reveal their true spiritual nature, and create success from there. Through her process and powerful intuition she helps clients to fully express their desired visions and guides them to expand, and become more integrated in their connections between the practical and spiritual, a blending of feminine and masculine energies, and in other areas that transform their vision, leadership and impact.

“I am inspired that today we can create new definitions of what it means to experience success; and that in our individual and collective awakening, we can and will end atrocities in the world, and against ourselves and each other,” says Tambra, of her life’s mission.

By the age of 10, Tambra experienced two “visions” that have influenced and informed her life. Unsure of their meaning, she didn’t reveal these for many years. At age 12 she began practicing yoga, and by age 13 she embarked on her spiritual self-study through the writings of Kahlil Gibran and Krishnamurti and by attending spiritual events with her mother. This led to the lifelong journey of exploring and integrating spiritual, philosophical, psychological, mythical, archetypal, relational and energetic principles and practices.

Following an urge to be in business, Tambra ambitiously created her own successful catering and event company at the age of 21 without having any prior experience. The young entrepreneur proved to be talented at putting systems in place and drawing people together to create spectacular events, and quickly became a leader in her community and actively involved in professional associations in her field. After twelve years in the special events and catering industry, Tambra started a small business consulting and marketing company, mentoring business owners throughout the San Francisco Bay Area, and speaking locally and nationally, while producing public workshops and events for her clients.

Throughout Tambra’s life she was aware she knew many things but had no knowledge of how she knew them. In her early 30s, Tambra received another spiritual call. Her pivotal moment came when she was looking out from a bluff at the expanse of the ocean. She had an experience of being in the midst of a kiss between heaven and earth. This was the first time she had a cellular experience of the energy of love. The moment gave her courage, clarity and commitment to discovering what that feeling was, and revealed to her own reluctance as a healer. Through continued study and experiences with her clients, she realized we all have access to innate wisdom. She now guides her clients to access their own intuition in their relationships, their businesses, and in their lives.

Tambra discovered she could apply both her entrepreneurial leadership, and her life-long desire to bring spiritual principles into all of life, including business, when she served as National Director for a life-skills and spiritual retreat institute. Here she served thousands of students and graduates as their Spiritual Guidance Counselor, as well as leading teams of volunteers in cities across the country to foster their communities. Collaborating to design and teach new programs expanded her skills as a speaker, leader and spiritual guide.

Today, Tambra reaches tens of thousands of people each year through her courses, products, speaking engagements and Joy of Love and Life radio show. She guides people to the unique expressions that they are, showing clients and audiences how to create and live a life that honors them fully. She realizes personal and professional evolution is one thing, but it is spiritual growth that truly feeds the soul in ways that are difficult to define with words. Through her voice she emanates energetic vibrations that induce healing, insight, clarity, peace and love. Tambra creates customized programs and retreats for her clients, allowing them to step away from their everyday environment and have transformational experiences. Her work has led to the creation of new and successful businesses, restoration of faith, renewed love in relationships, compassion and clarity during difficult situations, a deeper understanding of self and much more.

In Tambra's first book, Sacred Truths: An Unveiled Path to an Abundance of Joy, Meaning and Love, she reveals that it is our inner soul-level, spiritual development that leads each of us to our higher selves, issuing in the experience of life we each long for – of feeling vitally awake and alive. The Six Sacred Truths presented in this book are founded on Divine Laws, and invite the reader to hear the call of one's own soul, and to integrate one's truth into daily life.

"Since childhood I've had a sense this time was coming," says Tambra, "and that I would play a part in facilitating a new potential." The vision she had as a girl, of a possible future, has now arrived. "Today we each have an opportunity to participate in a global transformation. The challenge we face is this: we must release our habits and illusions of duality. We have mistaken polarity, a Divine Law, to mean duality. In Polarity there is wholeness: both sides together, connected. We must make a shift from me vs. you to we are one. As we do, we will experience our connection with all of life, igniting new levels of creativity and compassion and boundless joy. This is my purpose through my work."

Out of Tambra's commitment to integrate feminine and masculine energies, she contributes to and promotes The Pachamama Alliance, and the initiative, FourYearsGo.org.

Tambra, a San Francisco Bay Area Native, resides in Northern California with her partner Michael Browning and their two cats. For her own joy she enjoys entertaining, expressive dance and singing, and she has a passion for experiencing beauty in all things.
